Sparkling Comedy Is Next Play At Theatre

Observations...

By UDELL

Our Lady of the Gulf Church Fair will be held this weekend. The proceeds of this annual affair will go towards the renovation of the St. Stanislaus Day School, which will be reopened this year.

The Bay St. Louis Teen-Age Club has reached a little over two-thirds of their 1952 quota for operation expenses. This is the last week of the drive, and your last chance to help support this recreational center for the youth of our community. Try to help them reach their allotment for this year. Send in your contribution today. Every little bit helps.

The Mississippi Highway Department received bids Tuesday, July 22, for approaches to the new bridge. This structure is beginning to show quite a bit of progress. On the Harrison County side, about one-quarter of a mile of spans have been erected.

Fahy Drug Company has installed an air-conditioning system, to add to the comfort of their customers. A new well was drilled last week in order to furnish water for the operation of the five-ton unit.

Be sure and check the list of projects in this issue, for the Chamber of Commerce. Send in your blank to the C of C and show your interest in helping them develop into an active, progressive organization.

Farmers Day At Mississippi State

Farmers' Day will be observed at Mississippi State College August 12 according to Dr. Clay Lyle, dean and director of the Division of Agriculture. Farm people of the state are urged to visit the college on that date when crops are approaching maturity and when the effects of weed control and irrigation should be most striking.

—Don't miss the fun! Attend and enjoy all the wonderful festivities when Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church holds its annual church fair Saturday and Sunday.

Like a glass of pink champagne the effervescent quality of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," production at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre and a delightfully sparkling comedy, brings spontaneous bubbles of mirth from the hearts of old and young alike. To those who were enjoying their youth during the era of the flapper nostalgic memories will turn the hands of time back some thirty years, and dreams will become a reality for an evening. To the youth of today, the idea of an Atlantic crossing of ten days will seem a monstrous exaggeration, but the same mundane experiences of the complexities of youth finding its way into life is repeated in each generation, and the youth of today will laugh at the eagerness of these two girls reaching into an adult world.

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," expresses in few words the complete feeling of this three-act play, in which gaiety is the keynote of the plot, in which laughs are not caused by subtleties, nor wit, nor innuendos, but spring directly from the lightness of the heart, and the irrepressible joy that is the heritage of youth eternal.

The young in years, the young in heart, and the mature who wish to escape responsibilities for at least an evening will all want to see this play, which runs at the Little Theatre, August 15 and 16.

Miss Margo Hand is directing the play.

State Officials To Visit Well Near Clermont

Governor Hugh L. White, Attorney General J. P. Coleman, State Treasurer Newton Jones and Members of the State Mineral Lease Board, Oil and Gas Board and Seafood Commission will inspect the first oil well to be drilled in the Mississippi Sound on Monday, July 28.

Designated No. 1 State of Mississippi, the test well is being drilled jointly by the Gulf Refining Company and the Melben Oil Company. It is located in Grand Island Pass just off Lower Point Clear, about six miles southwest of Clermont Harbor. The location was selected on the basis of information derived from nearly six months of geophysical work by the two oil companies.

Gulf and Melben began drilling Mississippi's first off-shore well under a lease which the companies obtained last August for approximately 800,000 acres of under-water land claimed by the State of Mississippi.

This newest step toward the full development of Mississippi's natural resources is another example of the cooperation between state government and private industry which has steadily moved to balance agriculture with industry since Governor White inaugurated the BAWI program during his first administration.

Officials of the two oil companies will accompany the state officials on the inspection tour.

Games novelties and amusements will bring fun to the entire family.

Another Chance For The C Of C

It looks like the Chamber of Commerce is starting to roll! At the special meeting called two weeks ago the organization put the people of the county on the spot. Of course, it also put itself in the middle of the area.

Last week the C of C called for public improvement projects. It got 21 suggestions and this week is asking the citizens of Hancock County to informally vote one of these or propose a plan of their own.

All this looks sterling and we hope the Chamber can follow through with its plan of pushing the favored improvements for Bay St. Louis and the county. If it can't make this work, then the business men of the area have buried deeper the hopes for cooperative advancement here.

The meeting for reanimating the Chamber of Commerce brought out some alarming facts about the membership of the civic organization. Only 38 local citizens held membership cards up to the time of the meeting. Since then there has been an increase made on the length of the rolls and an increase in the work of the Chamber. Yet, at this very meeting unfavorable notation was made of the fact that the papers in this town were criticizing the C of C's inactivity. Quite true, and we will do it again if and when such a condition arises. Look what this criticism (and we think of it as constructive criticism) brought about? It caused the few men who, no doubt, were "doing their best alone" to seek the aid of their entire membership, and others, for consultation and to receive suggestions.

Once more there is hope for a wide-awake Chamber of Commerce to awaken our county to its many possibilities. We have faith in the possibilities of the county, but it is up to the leaders of the Chamber of Commerce to win our faith to them.

LETTERS

Editor,
Sea Coast Echo:

There have been many Rural Mail Boxes torn from the posts recently. Friday night some were knocked down in the 900 block of South Beach Boulevard, and some on Nicholson avenue. Then Monday some more were taken off on Sears avenue, Waveland. Several of the boxes were thrown over the seawall into the water and some others have not been located as yet.

I am sure that the person or persons doing this do not realize the seriousness of the offense as this is considered damage to Federal property and is convicted would be liable to severe penalty.

We are making every effort possible to get some clue as to the persons doing this but have been unsuccessful so far.

I would appreciate it if you would call attention to the seriousness of these offenses as this might put a stop to it.

Sincerely,
FRED L. HERLIHY

Korean GI Bill's Benefits Outlined

The so-called G. I. Bill recently enacted into law for veterans served in the start of the Korean conflict on June 27, 1950, provides five benefits.

William K. Hinds, manager of the Mississippi Veterans Administration Center, in an explanation of the new law said today that benefits, designed to assist in an explanation of the new law said today that benefits, designed to assist veterans in their return to civilian life, are (1) education and training; (2) guaranteed or insured loans for homes, farms and businesses; (3) unemployment compensation; (4) job-finding help; and (5) job-finding help.

The education and training provisions allow a veteran one and one-half days of training for each day in service after the outbreak of the Korean conflict regardless of where the service was performed, up to a maximum of 36 months.

However, veterans who have previously trained under earlier veterans' training laws - the World War II G. I. Bill or Public Laws 16 or 894 for the disabled - may get up to 48 months, minus whatever time they've already spent in training under those earlier programs.

Veterans in GI Bill training will receive an education and training allowance each month from the Government, to meet part of the expenses of their training and living costs. Tuition, fees, books, supplies and equipment will not be paid by the Government; instead, they will have to be paid out of the monthly allowance. The law also provides that veterans taking in institutional on-farm training must devote full time to their program.

A veteran will get his monthly allowance some time after the end of each month of training completed. Before the VA can pay him, the law requires a certification from both the veteran and his school or training establishment, that he was enrolled in and pursuing his course during that period.

This new method of payment differs from procedures followed under previous veterans' training laws. Under earlier laws, VA paid tuition and other costs directly to schools, and also paid eligible veterans a monthly subsistence allowance.

Although the new law takes effect today, no training allowances may be paid for any period prior to August 30 of this year.

The loan provisions of the new GI Bill for post-Korean veterans are similar to the GI loan program now in effect for World War II veterans. Some changes have been made, however, to protect the interests of home-buying veterans.

The amount of VA guarantee on a loan is the same for both groups of veterans.

Home loans may be guaranteed for up to 60 percent of the loan, but the guaranteed portion may not exceed $7,500. Other real estate loans may be guaranteed up to 50 percent, with a $4,000 top.

And non-real-estate loans, such as GI business loans, may be guaranteed for up to 50 percent with a $2,000 ceiling as to the guarantee. All such loans also may be insured.

BILLY JAMES ATTENDS MEET OF METHODIST

Billy James, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. James, Bay St. Louis, was among 250 Methodist youth who attended a South-wide leadership workshop at Lake Junaluska, North Carolina, at the church's southeastern summer assembly.

Delegates attended from nine states for training sessions which ran through July 25. The workshop was sponsored jointly by the Methodist General Board of Education, which has its national headquarters in Nashville, CVA's direct loan program, now in effect for World War II veterans, has been extended to veterans who served since Korea. Under the program, VA may make loans directly to veterans, but only in certain areas where four percent GI loan money is not available.

The new GI Bill's unemployment compensation program, administered through the States by the U. S. Department of Labor, provides unemployed post-Korean veterans with payments of $26 a week, up to a total of 26 weeks. The top amount that any veteran can get, therefore, is $676.

The unemployment program takes effect 90 days from now. It has been tied in with the new following way:

A veteran entitled to $100 mustering-out pay can't get unemployment compensation until 90 days after discharge or 90 days from today—the effective date of the program—whichever is later.

A veteran who gets mustering-out pay has to wait until 60 days after discharge or 90 days from now, while one who receives $300 must wait either 90 days after discharge or 90 days after this date, whichever comes later.

Eligibility requirements for the foregoing three benefits—education and training, GI loans and unemployment compensation—include (1) a discharge under conditions other than dishonorable; (2) active service any time after June 27, 1950; and (3) at least 300 days' total service, unless discharged sooner for a service-connected disability.

Tennessee and the Board of Education in each of 16 annual conferences in the southeast.

The Rev. Larry Elnberg, Nashville, staff member of the General Board, served as educational director.

Dean of the training program was the Rev. Warren W. Willis, Lakeland, Florida, director of Methodist youth work throughout Florida. The daily platform speaker was the Rev. Dan Whitsett, Sylacauga, Alabama.

Delegates were officers of the Methodist Youth Fellowship in annual conferences or districts. Workshop sessions featured training in program administration, worship, evangelism, missions, community service, Christian social action, public relations and recreation.

Jackson County Highway Stretch To Be Replaced

Work to eventually replace one of the worst and oldest sections of U. S. Highway No. 90 in Jackson County will be started next week.

John Smith, commissioner for the Southern Highway District, stated that orders had gone out authorizing work of begin.

Contractor on the job, which calls for 11 miles of relocation of the states most used highway, is Cook Construction Company of Jackson. Cook's bid for the work in March was $893,473.52.

Highway No. 90 is one of the heaviest used highways in the South, and has the highest 24-hour traffic count in the state. It will be relocated under this contract, Mr. Smith said, from the east corporate limits of Pascagoula to the Mississippi-Alabama line.

The new site puts the highway adjacent to the U. S. Railroad tracks for most of the 11 mile stretch. It leaves Pascagoula at about Kenneth street and ends at the connection with new U. S. Highway No. 90 as recently rebuilt in Alabama.

Construction, Mr. Smith said, will call for paying at a later date. No indication was given as to when this would be. Sufficient right-of-way was acquired by the state for a four-lane highway to future funds and traffic demands justify such a road, he said.

Industry Says Air Conditioning Helps Hay Fever

Hay fever sufferers - now estimated to constitute an "ill-nosed one-fifth of the nation" - have about given up expecting any relief through medical or weed-pulling projects as Awful August approaches once more.

But spokesmen for one of the nation's newest and fastest-growing industries are sounding a confident note of hope. Air-conditioning, they say, definitely is the answer.

According to John A. Gilbreath, head of the air conditioning division at Servel, all-year air conditioning will provide complete relief because the filtering system used with the equipment is guaranteed to remove 100 per cent of the pollen particles in a home.

Spot checks by Servel engineers of homes equipped with all-year air conditioning have confirmed laboratory findings, he reports, adding that the filters will remove dust particles even smaller than the pollen.

"As a matter of fact we have found that most of the people who purchased the equipment did so for the relief from hay fever and asthma rather than for luxury living," the Evansville, Ind., executive said.

One reason the subject of hay fever has become of such nationwide interest in recent years, he added, is because of the trend toward suburban living. Many people, of necessity, have had to buy homes in the suburbs because there were the only ones available. The result has been, in his words, "an increasing exposure of people to ragweed and a sharp increase in the number of victims."

Until recently, he said, medical authorities suggested injections.

In a notice to the contractor it was stated that contract time will start running from July 28. This work only covers grading, culverts and bridges. Work relocate this highway from Blount Bay to Gautier is already in progress.

Stennis Announces Senate Candidacy

Senator John C. Stennis this week asked election to a full term in the U. S. Senate where he went in 1947 to fill the unexpired term of Senator Theo G. Bilbo.

Stennis made his statement from his summer office at DeKalb during a brief stay between the adjournment of the Congress and the opening of the Democratic National Convention in Chicago July 21. He will return to the state following the convention.

"In the August primary elections this summer," Stennis said, "I shall be a candidate to succeed myself in the office of United States Senator for the full term to begin January 3, 1953."

"In November, 1947, you elected me to this important office to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Theodore G. Bilbo. I went to Washington under a pledge to do my best to represent all the people, and have faithfully tried to do so. I have promised, I have promised, on my record, to renew the same pledge to the people."

Arrangements have been perfected to convey Mayor Caddeville from his Bay St. Louis home to the Orleans parish lines for the purpose of attending his 50th birthday. The papers that have been prepared for the formal transfer of the $50,000 donation of the Simon Harnheim heirs to the Flak Free Public Library. This, it is expected, will be done next Monday. Mayor Caddeville's health has improved sufficiently for him to undertake the trip.

He will be brought to Chef Menteur, or some other point in Orleans parish on the steam launch of Albert Baldwin, Jr., and will then comply with the requisites necessary to signing such documents.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The last legal obstacles in the way of starting construction of the free bridges at Chef Menteur and Rigolets by the highway commission was cleared Tuesday when three federal judges denied the application of Eli T. Watson of the Pontchartrain toll bridge company for a restraining order prohibiting the erection of the free bridges.

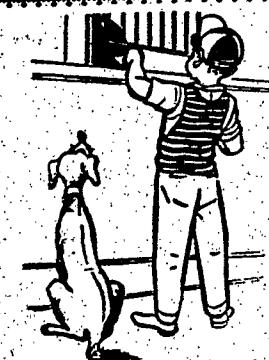

The decision of the judges, rendered from the bench, was interpreted by W. M. Barrow, attorney for the highway commission, as meaning they construed the various acts providing for the construction of the free bridges as constitutional, and in no way infringing on the franchise granted the toll bridge corporation.

Actual work on the free bridge at the Chef and Rigolets will begin Monday morning, according to Attorney Barrow.

HOME AGENT NOTES

by MADGE ALLRED

Although man-made synthetic fabrics, as nylon, rayon, orlon, dacron and so forth, are convenient, easy to wash and quick to dry, they require slightly different care than do natural fabrics. Strong bleaches may be dangerous to use on these man-made fabrics. How to keep nylon white seems to be a common concern to all.

Hard water should be "conditioned" before you wash nylon in it. Powdered bleaches you can find on the market have a base of sodium perborate. If you use a perborate bleach regularly, you will eliminate the need for strong bleaches. You will find these bleaches in variety of brands on the grocery shelf.

Chlorine bleaches are effective for whitening, but have the disadvantage of weakening nylon fabrics. Use a very weak solution of bleach with nylon.

Wash nylon separately from colored garments or even hosiery. White nylon absorbs the faintest tinge of color in water. Wash nylon in luke-warm water. Don't "wring wrinkles" into nylon. Nylon should be exposed to the hot sun.

FLOWERED ARRANGEMENTS

Plants in a flower border should be arranged according to height. Keep the low ones near the front edge and the tallest ones to the back. Occasionally, for accent, you might bring a tall plant farther forward than it normally would be.

In flower beds with a patch on either side, place the tall plants in the center.

FOLIO

Folio is no longer considered a summer disease, but a year-round danger. But still the number of victims always increases in the summer and early fall.

Some proved control measure include—avoiding letting a child get too fatigued. Treat all infections during hot summer months, if possible. Have children vaccinated for communicable diseases early in the spring and summer.

At the first sign of fever or irritation, have the child checked by a family doctor or the public health department. Provide an adequate diet for your family to build up resistance.

Theories that have been exploded regarding polio control include not letting children attend crowded quarters, not letting them go in swimming, or go to picture shows and many others.

NEW USES FOR SODA

Soda—just plain baking soda, has many uses besides going into baked products. Try cleaning with baking soda.

To clean an iron: Rub a starch-stained iron with a dampened cloth sprinkled with baking soda. That annoying sticky stuff will come off like magic.

To clean grease spatters: To cleanse grease spatters and other food stains from the top of your range, use a little baking soda on a damp cloth.

To remove scorched-on food: More easily from brass and enamel utensils, add soda to the soaking water.

To brighten jewelry: Soak it in a solution of one tablespoon of soda to a cup of water; scrub with a soft brush.

To sweeten a glass percolator, put three tablespoons of soda in the coffee basket, and "perk" ten minutes.

County Agent's Notes

By HOWARD SIMMONS

Provide straw, damaged hay or brush arbor shade for cows where trees are lacking in pastures. This will make the cows more comfortable and make for additional cash in your pocket.

Spray for control of horn flies, house flies, stable and horse flies. Heavy fly infestation will cause a 15 to 20 percent loss in milk production.

Save all the forage in the best quality possible. It will be needed next winter.

Fallow land now for late August and early September planting of early fall grazing crops. Following now will help preserve moisture and will help to get better germination and quick early fall growth.

There is still time to dig a trench silo if you have or will have a crop to put in the silo.

Now that crops are being laid by, it is a good time to remodel old barns, build sheds and generally make sure that there is plenty of housing for your dairy herd next winter. Feed costs too much to waste on wet, winter, out-of-door feeding.

Hold cows now freshening open for breeding in later November and December.

Run your dairy farm at full economy. Production costs are too high to permit any waste.

FORESTRY

Fire is still the number one killer of Mississippi pine forests. Although this is not the season of greatest danger from forest fires, they can cause heavy damage during hot, dry, summer seasons.

Fire now will damage trees more than during the dormant season. Take extra care when burning brush. If you spot a woods fire, notify your area forester or area lookout tower.

Remember, summer fires are harder to control due to the extreme heat.

POULTRY

Maintaining egg quality during hot weather is extremely important, especially to commercial egg producers. Don't let good eggs go bad from lack of care on your part.

Some reminders for having high quality eggs all year include: Provide plenty of room in nests; have at least one nest for each five hens. Keep plenty of clean, dry litter in nests. During hot weather pick up eggs three or four times a day. Pick up eggs in wire basket, cool them quickly in cool moist place. Take eggs to market at least twice a week.

Leave roosters out of your flock unless you are producing hatching eggs. Infertile eggs keep better than fertile eggs.

After grading, spread the eggs out on a wire tray. It only takes about three hours to cool eggs when they are spread on wire tray. It takes about five hours

Christ School Starts Fund Drive

A fund-raising drive for the Christ Church parish school was launched July 15.

Kenneth B. Thompson, a member of the school finance committee, said the school was founded in February, 1950, with funds subscribed by members of Christ Church. He said the 202 members of the church put up $22,000 to start the "non-sectarian school."

The school was installed in renovated structures of the old Wisner home property, facing the bay, at a total cost of $58,000, leaving $36,000 in loans. Thompson said the finance committee wants to raise funds to pay off the loans and save the interest "which would pay a teacher's salary of a year."

The Rev. Charles R. Johnson, pastor of the church, is headmaster of the school which has 83 students in the first and second grades. It is planned to add a grade each year until a complete elementary school is formed. The main school building is in the center of a seven-acre campus.

The school's religious program is directed by the Episcopal clergy but is open to students of all denominations. It was said that included in the school's enrollment are Baptists, Episcopalians, Jews, Methodists, Presbyterians and Roman Catholics. It is co-educational and has been given an "A" rating by the Mississippi accrediting commission.

The school began with 17 kindergarten children, as their church's parish house, as their first kindergarten group and two other classes have been added in a wire basket; 11 hours in an ordinary bucket or pail; and 19 hours in an egg case.

You can make a good cooling table by stretching one-inch poultry mesh over a framework similar to a table without a top.

Egg quality deteriorates as much as in three days at 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit as in 100 days at 37 degrees. Egg quality will hold as well for 23 days at 60 degrees as it does for three days at 98 degrees temperature.

Remember, the hen lays good eggs. It is up to you, the producer, the grocery man and the housewife to keep the egg good until they hit the skillet.

A number of New Orleansians as well as residents of Bay St. Louis are members of the finance committee, including Thompson and George Lehlthner, who is chairman. Lehlthner and Thompson have prepared, at private expense, a booklet describing the history and aims of the school, which will be distributed in the fund drive.

The booklet in describing the elementary department states that each child is taught skills not ordinarily provided in elementary schools. Basic instruction of a foreign language begins with the first grade, with the aim of developing an elementary knowledge of as well as a liking for the language.

Enrollment in elementary classes is limited to 25 students. Mrs. Earl Ramond is principal of the school, and Mrs. L. R. Stehling is kindergarten director.

Costs More Now!

Most of the things we eat, wear, or use cost much more today than they did in 1945... And in a majority of cases, it's price alone that has changed, the items being no bigger—or better.

Telephone service is an exception—Over-all telephone rates here in Mississippi have advanced much less than prices in general... a great deal less than our costs of providing the service... At the same time, telephone service has been greatly expanded and improved... Today the average Southern Bell subscriber in Mississippi can call, or be called by, twice as many people as in 1945... And calls go through faster... transmission is better.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

Just before Congress adjourned it amended the Social Security Act giving to the states more money for the Welfare Program without the state having to put up money itself. At the present time the federal government is putting up three-fourths of the first $20 going to the needy aged, needy blind and needy unemployed and from there on dollar for dollar. Under the new law effective October 1st this year the federal government will put up four-fifths of the first $25 and from there on dollar for dollar up to $55 per month for these three services. This will result in a general increase for all those on the welfare payroll except people receiving $30 a month, the maximum allowed under the state law, and dependent children whose allowance is also restricted by state law. Governor White has stated that he advises changing our state laws so that our people may get the full advantage of the increase in federal funds with our present state appropriation.

SOIL CONSERVATION

By B. L. BISHOP

The Mississippi Association of Soil Conservation District Commissioners held their 7th annual summer meeting at Holmes County Junior College, Goodman, Mississippi on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 15-16 last week, with an attendance of approximately 175 commissioners, conservationists, foresters and representatives of other interested groups.

Grassland farming and good land-use was the theme of the program.

Otho Rester and Fitzhugh Lee, Commissioners of Hancock County Soil Conservation District, attended the meeting, Wednesday, July 16.

Alfred E. (Ford) Smith, cooperator, residing in the Sellers School Community, was busy last week clipping the weeds in his pasture. Smith planted reseeded Crimson Clover and Bahia grass last fall. When Crimson Clover matured, 600 pounds of seed was harvested. Weeds grew fast after the Crimson clover matured and began to over-crowd the Bahia grass. "After mowing the weeds, the Bahia grass will have a better chance to become established. When the Bahia grass is well established in this field, it will be so thick, the weeds will not be able to grow. Mowing weeds will be a minor problem," Smith said.

Smith harvested 1700 pounds of Bahia grass seed from a three year old pasture during early July. The seed will be cleaned.

Mr. May said some of the items listed have already been decontrolled but are being repeated to avoid any misunderstanding.

tested and sold to cooperators in the district for pastures established this fall. Last year, Smith harvested and sold 1800 pounds of Bahia to district cooperators. Smith pointed out, that Bahia grass is well adapted to his land and it will furnish continuous grazing for his cattle during August and September when dry weather prevails. Although you can graze cattle continuously during late spring until frost, Smith likes to manage his Bahia best for seed plot and graze during the fall.

Now is the time to fallow land for fall pasture planting. Place your order for lime and other minerals before the rush season begins.

The work you do now on pasture land to be planted to grasses and clovers for early winter grazing is important. It will have more to do with the kind of stand you have and will grow-off better for an early grazing.

Two methods of preparing land for fallowing are to plow and then disk or to use heavy disk to cut the land and then a pulverizing disk to get the land ready for fallowing. The land should be disked every two weeks until planting time.

There are two reasons for fallowing land as suggested, "One is to get the weeds, broom sage, etc., turned under so that it will rot and release the nitrogen back to the soil. The other is to get the weeds and grasses decayed so that your seedbed will not be open and loose.

Pasture seedbed preparation prepared in this manner will make

Every Mississippian shares in Oil Production

Solid portion of inset map shows areas covered by Gulf leasing activities. Shaded portion shows area where Gulf has oil and gas production. Gulf's exploration work extends into all of Mississippi's 82 counties.

"When Gulf brings in a new oil well, that success touches an ever-widening circle of Mississippians. Royalty payments begin to landowners. State, county and city governments get increased tax revenue. Merchants, farmers, factory workers and professional men—all feel the effects of quickened trade tempo that oil production brings to Mississippi.

In 35 years of pioneering, Gulf has drilled 506 wells in Mississippi—145 of them dry holes. Just in the past seven months Gulf's continuing activity has resulted in three new fields—Ireland in Wayne county—making a total of nine Gulf field discoveries in Mississippi thus far.

Such work has raised Gulf to second largest oil producer in the state—a daily average of some 20,000 barrels of crude.

Gulf's activities resulted in a total of $13,000,000 of new money being poured into Mississippi trade channels last year alone—helping the state to reach its present high level of economic progress. And Gulf believes that the sound development of Mississippi's oil and gas resources will continue to bring benefits not only to Gulf but to all Mississippians.

GAS TAX TAKE SHOWS RECORD SUMMER TRIPS

Early reports of spurring gasoline consumption and mounting gas tax collections indicate summer travel this year will hit a new high in Mississippi, and throughout the nation, Howard P. Hill, Executive manager of the Mississippi Automobile Club said today.

Eighty-seven out of every 100 vacationers will use their cars, he said, and the average trip will cover 980 miles. He predicted highway users will travel a total of 1,862,000,000 miles in Mississippi, consume about 124,100,000 gallons of gasoline and pay $11,169,000 in state and federal gasoline taxes during the summer season.

"Summer does more than any other season to prove America lives on wheels," he said. "Summer taxes and travel may leave Mr. and Mrs. Car owner pretty well knocked out by Labor Day, but the season's activities will mean an estimated $220,000,000 to businessmen in the state."

Adding a somber note, he described public apathy toward traffic deaths which he said appear to be mounting to new highs along with taxes.

Gerald Emile Guidroz, Kiln is among the ninety-two candidates eligible for the Master of Arts degree to be conferred August 6 by Dr. R. C. Cook, President of Mississippi Southern College.

The 1952 summer session at Southern included nearly 700 graduate students which is a new record for the college. There are also four candidates for their Masters' degree in music, for an impressive 961 candidate total for the summer.

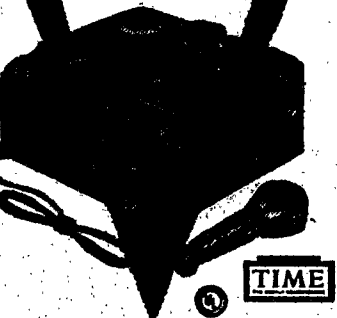

Guidroz has been studying school administration.

B-W-Y-C SAILS UNSUCCESSFUL SERIES FOR JR. LIPTON CUP

An unsuccessful, but spirited series was sailed by Bay-Waveland Yacht Club in the Junior Lipton Fish Class championship regatta at Fairhope, Alabama, Friday and Saturday, July 18-19. Local club junkies tied for last place in the 11-club regatta sponsored annually by the Gulf Yachting Association.

"Skippers for Bay-Waveland in the three-race series were Penny Cole, who fouled out, and this received no points; Billy Cooper, who placed 10th and earned two points; and Shelby Tucker, who crossed eighth and merited four points.

Fairhope Yacht Club for the second year tied, but nevertheless beat out Biloxi Yacht Club for first place. Both clubs had a total of 29 points at the end of the series, but Fairhope had scored ahead of Biloxi in two of the three races.

Southern Yacht Club, with 27 points, placed third in the regatta. Gene Walet, of Lightning fame, led the fleet across the line in the last race Sunday.

Final scores for the other clubs were Mobile, 23; Pass Christian, 19; St. Andrew's Bay 17; Pensacola, 13; St. Petersburg, 12; Buccaneer, of Mobile, 10; and tying Bay-Waveland, Gulfport, 6.

In the first race Saturday afternoon, Penny Cole, with Shelby Tucker, Jr., and Donald Cole, Jr., as crew fouled out when his boat struck a stake. The Sunday morning race was postponed until the afternoon because of a calm; it saw Billy Cooper, with Jerry Kiefer and Larry Schaff as crew, cross the fleet on port tack at the start and steadily drift back into last place from which he gained one position. Shelby Tucker, Jr., with Penny and Donald Cole as crew, finished eighth in the late Sunday afternoon race.

The GYA Junior Lipton cup and a plaque were presented to the Fairhope club Sunday evening after the final race. Second and third place clubs, Biloxi and New Orleans respectively, each received a pennant. Individual medals were awarded to the winning skippers and their crews of the three races.

Cole, Cooper and Tucker were chosen to represent Bay-Waveland Yacht Club through a three-race-elimination series in which eight junior skippers competed.

"But How Can EDUCATED People Be Catholics?"

Some "intellectuals" reject the Catholic belief in Christ.

Jesus, they say, was a mere man—not God. Some of them acknowledge that he was a great teacher and rank him with Buddha, Mohammed, Confucius and Moses. A few even claim that no such Person as Jesus Christ ever lived, and that the entire structure called Christianity is founded upon a myth.

While refusing to believe the Scriptures to be of divine origin, some of these educated people embrace Christianity because they feel that its moral laws are good for society.

"The service of the Christian religion," declared one of these doubters, "and my own faith in essential Christianity, would not be diminished one iota if it should in some way be discovered that no such individual as Jesus ever lived." They are, in other words, willing to accept Christ's religion—but not Christ Himself.

It is ridiculous, of course, to suggest that the Catholic religion is the religion of the ignorant. For millions of educated people... and many of the world's most distinguished scholars, philosophers and scientists... have been devout Catholics. But discounting this fact, there is abundant evidence to support the Catholic teaching concerning Jesus.

It is to be found in the Four Gospels, in which the real Jesus is revealed to us. "But," argue some educated unbelievers, "you are assuming that the Four Gospels are an authentic recording of the life and teaching of Jesus Christ. We refuse to believe this."

The "intellectuals" are, of course, being anything but intellectual in taking this position. For there is more abundant proof of the genuineness of the Gospels than there is to support other historical records which scholars accept without question. References to the quotations from the Four Gospels date back as far as the first century of the Christian era... and are found in writings contemporary with the Apostles and the first Christians.

We will be happy to send you without cost or obligation an interesting pamphlet explaining... Why you can believe the Gospel... How the Gospels were written... Who discarded the Gospels...
